In October of 1974, a group of concerned Charlotteans came together in the basement of Dilworth United Methodist Church to be a voice for dozens of homeless and/or runaway children in crisis. With boundless enthusiasm and a drive to make a difference, this group of concerned citizens started The Relatives, a place where kids with nowhere to go could find safety.

Since then, The Relatives has become much more than a Safe Place for children. Today, The Relatives is a system of resources that helps children, youth and young adults find safety, stability and pathways to successful futures. The Relatives Crisis Center keeps kids safe and families together, while the On Ramp Resource Center and Journey Place Transitional Residence move young adults beyond their circumstances to embrace their full potential.

The Relatives believes every kid deserves a safe place to sleep and a fighting chance to make it. If you do too, be a part of that limitless potential.
